

Tooth Pick Gator Part 2

Chapter 3: Tooth Pick Gator: Daring Detective

It was still midnight in the bustling Spring Yard City as the blue hedgehog was taken away by the police over a misunderstanding, his best buddy Tails was crying that Sonic has been taken away by the police which he held Tooth Pick's hand very tightly.

"Sonic's gone, he was my best friend Tooth Pick", sobbed Tails.

Tooth Pick replied, "Don't worry Tails, we will save Sonic." Tooth Pick Gator looked towards Tails and continued, "Did he do anything?"

"Not at all Picky, he would never do anything lawbreaking," Tails cried on some tissues that Tooth Pick gave out.

Tooth Pick Gator grated his teeth, put his fist on his hand and shouted in a positive mood, "We must get Sonic out of jail and whoever did this down to justice!"

Sonic is in the police van humming a tune similar to Highway Star by Deep Purple but changed slightly. Steve, the white dog cop got his baton and hit Sonic on the head but missed so the hedgehog wiped the sweat off his forehead. Steven, the brown police dog was humming to Radar Love and reached for the baton. However Sonic got the baton and hit Steven with it who wiped his poor head.

Sonic layed back in the van and asked Steve, "Where are you taking me?"

"To Gigalopolis Maximum Prison", replied Steve.

Steven interrupted, "It's Gigapolis, Steve!"

"Precisely, Steven", replied Steve.

Steven followed on, "Exactly, Steve."

Sonic then held himself to the bars waiting to be at Gigapolis Prison while the Steve(n) brothers turned on the radio to the tune that Steven was humming to. A few moments later, the blue hedgehog and the police dogs had arrived to a prison which was an island similar to Robotnik's Rot your life away dunegons from the time Sonic saved Sketch Lampoon. Suddenly lightening was going off so Sonic who was handcuffed, Steve and Steven came out of the van and heading towards a bridge which the scary music was playing somewhere around Gigapolis Maximum Prison.

Just as the wind was howling, Sonic and the police dogs arrived in the prison which was very grey and dark. Sonic could see a boy with a red jacket and blue jeans (who appeared in 7 Continents for One Robotnik) walking out of prison since he was released.

Steve and Steven took Sonic to the prison office and came up was a prison guard that looked like a famous detective in 1983 with his grey hat, grey jacket and black trousers.

The guard asked, "Who is this dirtbag, officers?"

"That is Sonic The Hedgehog, he stole the Golden Diamond from the museum", spoke Steve and Steven in unison.

Sonic interrupted, "I did not!"

The guard leaned towards Sonic and picked up the "report" made by the Steven brothers.

The guard that looked like Inspector Gadget spoke disappointally, "I'm shocked to see you here, Sonic."

Suddenly the prison guard got a book called Gigapolis Maximum Prison Criminals. The human-esque guard opened the book one by one.

The guard spoke, "Take Sonic away to the cells and whatever you do, put on his uniform!"

The Steven brothers took Sonic towards the cells and thrown on to Sonic a criminal uniform with the number DAOS 04 on the front which as tradition in cartoons is the production code of the episode.

Sonic then muttered to himself, "Only Tails can save me now and I'm usually the happy one."

Steve spoke to the criminal, "Cheer up lad, we know you didn't do it."

"We're just doing it for a promotion otherwise we will get fired by the warden", continued Steven.

Sonic said, "A promotion ay, I've got an idea so you won't get fired but I need my little buddy to help me."

Sonic, Steve and Steven huddled together and whispering inaudibly. The Steven brothers signaled the plan and took Sonic to a cell. Next to Sonic is Smiley Shark from High Stakes Sonic.

"Hedgehog, nice to see you again", cheerfully spoke Smiley.

Sonic then asked the shark, "What were you in for this time, Smiley?"

Smiley then looked around, waiting to think of the first lie but he gave up.

"Err.. Tricking people into going to the Casino Night Zone. Remember?", whispered Smiley.

Sonic then looked glum, waiting for Tails to arrive since he can break Sonic out. While Sonic thought he could use his spin dash or the triple spin, Sonic quickly saw the camera with an alarm and returned to sitting down.

Meanwhile back at Spring Yard City, Tails and Tooth Pick Gator have returned to the detective office, the slow depressing music is playing in the background. Tooth Pick Gator is sitting down on his chair while Tails stood up.

Tails encouraged Tooth Pick by saying, "Come on, we need to free Sonic right now."

Tooth Pick Gator looked disappointed that he lost the case and slumped on his chair.

"I love to but I need to relax first." spoke Tooth Pick.

Tooth Pick picked up a grey portable handheld console and then he was playing on his Game Boy, Revenge of the Gator theme is playing in the background.

Tails asked, "What are you playing Tooth Pick?"

Some sound effects were coming out of the Game Boy and Tooth Pick paused the game which then he looked up.

"It's called Revenge of the Gator, it's a really good pinball game", replied Tooth Pick.

Tails then goes towards Tooth Pick while he looks at the screen. Soon as Tails saw a black and white ball going near to the alligators, he scratched his head.

Tails asked, "How come it's black and white?"

Then as soon as Tails finished the sentence, Tooth Pick switched off his Game Boy and started to look depressed.

"Let me tell you the sad truth, I'm colorblind." Tooth Pick then continued, "I can't see any color except black, white, blue or brown."

Tails then started to cry not only because Sonic's in jail but his new friend, Tooth Pick is colourblind.

Tails dully replied, "That's really bad."

Tooth Pick saw Tails' tears and started to cheer up, he handed Tails another tissue and wiped his eyes.

"I know.... Let's find Sonic, shall we?" Tooth Pick spoke and continued, "Tails, get me 10 tooth picks, I would need them."

Tails stopped crying and smiled to the crocodile which the music for a victory is playing in the background.

Tails cheerfully yelled, "In a snap, we will stop this villian and make my best bud, Sonic outta there!"

Suddenly Tails and Tooth Pick opened the tooth pick office and grabbed as many picks as they can. Then they slammed the door shut.

Back in Gigapolis Maximum Prison, Sonic is now being pushed by the warden to watch an re-education film so the criminals will became recognised in society. In the room, a bald humanesque man was at the back on his own, while in front of him were Smiley, Branden Quark, Easy Eddie and the two women. The guard pushed Sonic next to the bald man which he gave the blue hedgehog a frightening look.

The man asked, "I'm Criminally Clyde, public enemy number 1, what's your name?"

Sonic was too scared to speak to Clyde but since he figured he might be in the prison for a long time.

"I'mmmmm Sonnniiicccc Theee hedgehogggg", Sonic scarefully replied.

Unexpectedly, Clyde went closer to Sonic like they were long lost pals.

"You're always been my favourite hero ever since they told me that I'm gonna be here for 12,423 years with no parole", replied Clyde.

The warden then started to put a tape into the tape recorder and pressed play.

The tape spoke, "This is exclusive property of Gigalopolis Maximum Prison, copyright 1990 and should not be used on defeating Robotnik."

Everyone was watching the TV set which then came up with the Adventures of Mighty Plumber introduction, and then suddenly two plumbers (which also appeared in 7 Continents for One Robotnik) were running about, collecting fire flowers and Mighty Plumber was shown using his plumber's snake on King Koopa who was laughing. Then a censored sign came up and continued where Mighty Plumber used his plunger and threw it on King Koopa, the two plumbers (Mario & Luigi) were following Mighty Plumber.

While everyone was glued to the screen, Clyde stretched his legs when Dr Quark was relaxing.

"I was in this show once, paid decently, too bad I got a headache after that", whispered Clyde.

Sonic replied, "This show is way past uncool, look at all the mistakes and junk."

The warden paused the tape and pointed at Sonic, Clyde got up from his seat, plucked one of Dr. Quark's feathers and chucked it at the warden.

"If you ever hurt Sonic, you will steal for this", bellowed Crimewave Clyde.

The warden replied, "How come you didn't say you will pay for this?"

"Criminals never pay for stuff bub, I only robbed that Mobius Mint so I could feed a poor family in Scrap Valley", Clyde counteracted.

Sonic then slapped himself with his hand thinking that he will never leave, the brown hedgehog had a quick look at Sonic and her eyes turned into hearts.
